A Few Noles From in and Around Laurel's Capital

"London is the best town in the mountains," remarked a drummer the other day and I felt very much like giving him my hand on it. It is a good place, both from a moral and business standpoint. More goods are sold there than any place of its size in the country and its business houses compare favorably with towns double its size. One store, H. C. Thompson & Co., has a $25,000 stock, which comprises almost anything you can think of, while several other firms have from $10,000 to $15,000 worth of goods. Almost every kind of business is carried on and if the promoters are not successful, there is nothing to indicate it in their appearance. Morally London is at the head of the list. Handsome churches of various denominations show in some degree the character of her inhabitants and there is no place that can boast of a more quiet or peaceable people. For hospitality her citizens can't be beat.

There are a round dozen Star Routing men in London and more of that kind of business is done there than at any place in the U. S. They also do a considerable wagon service in office. One firm has the contract for hauling the mails in Brooklyn, Nashville, New Orleans and numerous other large cities and the amount of money it takes to buy wagons, horses and harness for this work runs far up into the thousands. There is some money in Star Routing to a good holder, but the inexperienced frequently pay dearly for their lack of knowledge of the business.

Work will begin in a few weeks on the College that the Woman's Personage and Home Missions Society have decided to build at London. It will cost $20,000 and will have an endowment fund of the same amount. Most of the money has already been raised. One of the most liberal donors to the cause was Mr. W. B. Catelung, who contributed $5,000. The site selected is on a hill to the right of town and the building, which will be of brick, will be a very commodious one. Mrs. Belle Bennett and Mrs. Sawyer, of Richmond, who represent the society, had the grounds staked off Friday and have furnished plans and specifications to several contractors to bid on. Miss Bennett told me that she had received from some unknown friend at Stanford a handsome diamond ring and watch chain with the request that they be sold and the proceeds given to the endowment fund of the College. She would be glad to hear from other Stanford people who want to donate to that worthy cause.

Capt. Frank B. Riley and wife gave a birthday dinner to their son, Frank, Saturday. A number of friends were present and the dinner was a culinary gem. Capt. Riley had killed a couple of wild turkeys the day before and they made a very toothsome dish.

The First National Bank has an interesting collection of curios that Cashier Jackson and Teller Fitzgerald have gathered during the past several years. Their tastes seem to run on weapons, for every conceivable kind of gun, pistol and knife is on exhibition. Mr. Jackson, who is a great admirer of horses, also has the picture of every noted horse in the State.

The secret marriage of Mr. Charles M. Randall and Miss Lou McKee, which was just made public last week, was a general surprise. The sewing society women were kept in ignorance of it and they no doubt feel that they got badly left out. The bride and groom are both very popular and are being congratulated on all sides.

The holiness convention brought about 50 delegates to London last week and a very pleasant and profitable meeting was held. There are lots of sanctificationists in that section and they enjoyed to the fullest extent having the "bigger guns" with them.

John W. Bastin, of Pittsburgh, is the busiest man in the country. Besides being general manager of the Laurel Coal Co., he is postmaster, book keeper, sales man and hotel keeper. He is making lots of money and has more friends than any man in the mountains. His brother, Samuel Bastin, has a coal mine of his own at East Bernstadt and is also doing well.

Olevar "The" Moren, of this place, and Mrs. Blanche Sweeney, of Lancaster, will be married April 2. Mr. Moren was sheriff one term and made an excellent officer; has considerable of this world's goods and is a fine gentleman. Mrs. Sweeney is an unusually handsome woman, very accomplished and should and will make a helpmeet loving and true.

The London base ball club claims to be the crack one of the mountains. Its members spend every spare moment in practice and if they are not "cracker-jacks" they ought to be. They are very anxious to play the Stanford boys and insist that I arrange a game for them.

The mines in Laurel are only running about half time now. The operators have trouble in disposing of the coal and consequently dig no more than they can sell.

Gov. Bradley has several rather lukewarm friends in and around London.

Laurel wasn't "in it" in the distribution of offices and the disappointed ones, as well as their friends, are disposed to kick just a little. Notwithstanding the fact that she gave the governor nearly 600 majority, she didn't get even a small piece of the pie. There will be no trouble about the county instructing for Bradley, however.

Judge Weaver's term of postmaster expires April 5, when he will turn the office over to that splendid democrat, J. F. Young. The judge has held the office for seven years and has made an excellent postmaster.

Should Be Made to Marry Her.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.

STANFORD, March 30.—I noticed in the last issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL a communication signed "Observer" which stated that an attractive young lady had fallen into hands of a tempter and that she was now nursing a baby of her own. I learn from that communication that what ought to have been a useful life has thus been blighted and the last ray of hope has sunk behind the cloud of despair. In cases of this kind the woman is damned, while the man is frequently exalted to the enviable station of hero, when to say the least, both are equally guilty. The saddest sight one can picture to the imagination is that of a bright and fascinating young lady who in an hour of weakness has yielded to temptation and is doomed forever to a life of degradation and shame, unless the necessary reparation is made—have her betrayer to marry her. Even then it is hard enough, but it is always the best thing that can be done to ameliorate the condition of the young lady. The vilest, meanest and most contemptible wretch an ad wise deceiver ever permitted to breathe the breath of life is the demon in human form who invades the sacred precincts of a home and seeks an opportunity to cause the downfall of a girl. The flesh is weak and much that is shameful goes on in "secrecy"—even in sanctified circles—that never comes to light. I hope the necessary steps will be taken at once to have the young man who caused the ruin of this girl forced to marry her, and if the young lady is the daughter of a widow and no other relative is to be found to insist with the argument of a shot gun that wrong be made right, the people ought to rise in their might and demand it.

Card From the Mt. Vernon Express Agent.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.

ST. VERNON, March 30.—The statement made by your correspondent from this place is incorrect in every particular so far as its reference to the express agent is concerned. I am carrying out my instructions from the Adams Express Company to the letter. The instructions conflict with the laws in no way. We are compelled to deliver all packages according to their address, or would lay ourselves liable to suits innumerable. This "jog business" has been wrestled with by all the grand juries ever impaneled here and all indictments found against the Express Company or agent proved worthless and added expense to State and county. Cases have all been reversed by court of appeals wherever a conviction appeared, that court deciding that the Express Company was a common carrier and was compelled to carry and deliver jugs C. O. D. or otherwise when ordered for shipment. A great deal of ignorance has been displayed in this matter by many who could have been informed better had they made proper inquiries. The railroads have no say so in express matters. Jugs will continue to be delivered by me as long as I am so instructed to do so by my employers. What is done with these jugs after delivery I am in no ways responsible for.

Yours Truly, J. H. KENSKOY.

—It is estimated that $21,000,000 factory made pies are consumed in this country annually, at a cost of $161,000,000. They would pile up on top of each other form a tower 13,468 miles high.

—In a libel suit in London, England, a woman was awarded damages of $60,000 against a physician, who divulged a professional secret.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Collingridge, druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with a grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store, I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep more or house without it. Get a free trial at W. B. McRoberts' drug store."

Not To Be Trifled With.

Will people never learn that "a cold" is an accident to be dreaded and that when it occurs, treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end, and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year, ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this there are today countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern and were therefore neglected. When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effective.—Cincinnati Gazette.

—Sam Anthony, 89, and Miss Sallie Williams, 25, were married at Vevay, Ind. The groom had been married four times.

—J. C. Kissinger, a successful farmer and banker of Butler county, Pa., is the father of 34 children, 19 by his first wife and 15 by his second.

—A Cleveland girl who had a young man arrested for kissing her, admitted on the witness stand that she had kissed him first. The defendant was discharged. It looked like a clear case of justifiable osculation in self defense.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Lane Allen, of Chicago, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Arabella, to Mr. Elbridge Byron Heath at Christ's church, Chicago, April 15th. She is a niece of Mrs. Charles H. Fox, of Danville.—Advocate.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Kentuckian says that Dr. Leftwich's meeting at the Methodist church has resulted in 16 conversions.

—The Kentucky State Sunday-school Union convention will be held in the First Baptist church, Owensboro, August 22.

—Rain prevented Rev. R. B. Mahony from filling his appointment at Preacherville Sunday, but he will be on hand next Saturday and Sunday at the usual hours.

—Rev. E. S. Decker, a Methodist preacher at New York, has been fired by his Conference for kissing and making love to a member of his flock while he had a wife.

—The Jews all over the world are now celebrating the Feast of the Passover. Read the 11th chapter of Exodus and you will know not why such a feast is celebrated, will be enlightened.

—Rev. Wm. Manifold, of Milwaukee, has topped again. He is only seven years in the ministry, but in that period he has left the Episcopal for the Roman Catholic church three times, and the latter for the former three times.

—The Presbyterian congregation has determined to remodel their church at an expense of $2,500. It will be almost an entire new building, nothing but the walls and the floor of the old building remaining.—Elizabethtown News.

—Elder V. W. Dorris had 210 accessions in his meeting at Angola, Ind. This place once the hot-bed for infidelity, will soon be the "city of churches."—Jesseamine Journal. Mr. Dorris is now assisting Rev. J. S. Kindrick in a meeting at Danville, and is creating wide spread interest.

—Rev. L. M. Lawley is engaged in a very successful meeting at Greenwood. G. A. Klingman's meeting at Burnside has been in progress about two weeks and he has had about 30 additions to date, and large audiences. He expects to organize a new congregation of disciples.—Somerset Paragon.

—Mrs. J. T. Sharrard, wife of the pastor, was baptized Sunday night and received into the Christian church. She has been a Presbyterian since girlhood. Mr. William Crooke, of Laurel, who has been at the Joseph Price Hospital for some time and who is very feeble from a surgical operation, was also baptized.

OTTENHEIM, Mar. 30.—"Bro. Sizemore's orchestra" came over here Sunday to assist in the music at the Lutheran church, of which Rev. W. Stechow is pastor, and wore his guests after the services. They came near not reaching here alive, however, as while on the way an awful storm came up, during which hail as large as a guinea egg fell, frightening the horses, which came near running over a precipice, beyond which depths abysmal yawned. But for the superior strength and skillful manipulation of the lines by the driver, Hon. Harvey Helm, all would have been dashed to pieces. Pastor Stechow is a good preacher, has been in this country 42 years and a minister 32 years. There seems no bounds to his and his excellent wife's hospitality and it looked like about half of the large congregation went home with them to dinner. They are great lovers of music and the book used at the church is full of excellent hymns. Ottenheim now presents every appearance of a thriving village and the inhabitants are the friendliest people in the world.

—Herr Krupp, the gun manufacturer, is the richest Prussian subject. The official statistics for 1895 show that he is taxed on an income of 7,135,000 marks.

W. P. WALTON.

In approving the Thorne bill, which is designed to prevent distillers from using the name of any other brand than their own upon their manufacture and thereby prohibiting a very mean but a very profitable fraud, and vetoing one to pay Mrs. Judge Bennett the salary that her husband would have earned the balance of the year in which he died, Gov. Bradley is worthy of the highest commendation. A man with less stamina, might have yielded to the flattery and cajolery of rich distillers, who sought payment for their political perfidy by trying to induce him to disapprove the law, but Bradley seems to be made of sterner stuff and could not be swayed from the path of duty. His action in approving the one bill was as commendable as his veto of the other. There is neither warrant nor justification either in the constitution or the bill of rights for the payment of services not rendered. Judge Bennett's widow is entitled to no bounty and in the present condition of the treasury, and those who are suffering for pay for work actually done, the act passed by the Legislature was a piece of that generosity, which politicians are apt to display when using other people's money. Preferring always to commend rather than censure, it gives us pleasure to say that in the main, Gov. Bradley seems to have kept his promise to do right as God shall give him power to discern the right. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is not of that class of hide bound sheets that can never see anything bad in its party or anything good in the acts of members of the opposite party, and it will continue to give both men and devil his due.

SPEAKER BLANFORD grows braver the further he gets from the scene of conflict at Frankfort and hid behind a tree in the hills of Breckinridge county, hallooed to a newspaper man hunting for him there that he had two pistols in his desk on the memorable Saturday at the Capitol read to wing his men on the slightest move. His subsequent acts, however, give the lie to this statement, for he crawled on his abdomen to Bradley and implored him to call out the army to protect him and his scabby band. Jack Chinn could put to flight a whole regiment of things like Blanford.

We regret to notice that our governor has got to be a "cry baby" since his election. The Louisville Commercial's correspondent says that when the Charleston, W. Va., band played "Old Kentucky Home," preceding his speech, "tears stole down Gov. Bradley's cheek." We suppose this exhibition of lachrimosity was caused by the thought stealing over him of how cheerless Jack Chinn has made that old Kentucky home which must be guarded occasionally to protect the inmate from that naughty, naughty man.

HUNTER made his influence against Bradley felt in Barren and Trigg counties Saturday by having them instruct for McKinley. Pendleton and Carlisle also instructed for the Ohioan, but Taylor, Bourbon and Shelby declared for Bradley without a second choice. Hunter was present in Barren and personally directed matters, even to having himself endorsed for Congress. The light is on in earnest and if it prove a veritable Killenny cat affair, democracy and good government will be the gainer.

THE OWENTON Herald says that the Post's cut of the editor of this paper may be an up-to-date likeness, but it would never have recognized it as ns. Nor would anybody else, dear Newlon. Even our enemies say we are not as tough looking as that makes us appear. By the way, the Times' picture of the gallant old soldier who fought under Morgan and now fights for democracy in Sweet Owen was a good one and the tribute deserved.

CONGRESSMAN OWENS made a manly speech before the committee, which is supposed to be trying the contest brought for his seat by Denny, but it was a waste of time and breath. The republicans need Owens' seat in case the election of president is thrown into the House and they are going to give it to Denny, no matter how clear Owens can read his title to it. That party recognizes no principle greater than might is right.

THE Harrodsburg Sayings nominates John B. Thompson for the democratic candidate for Congress in this district and pays him a deserved compliment. But by what right does a paper which has renounced its allegiance to the democratic party make suggestions to it? The Sayings should shine on its own side of the poplinitic fence.

THE Louisville Truth's bicycle edition is a daisy and no mistake. It embraces 12 pages and is profusely illustrated with half tone cuts as clear and as faithful as photographs and is in every way calculated to interest the lovers of the wheel. Brer. Finley seems to be doing well, even if he has to pay a libel judgment occasionally.

PROF. JASON CHENAULT, of Louisville, has invented a word. It is "dicknotic" and he uses it with reference to the present political state of affairs in Kentucky.

There being no constitutional objections to the Compulsory Education bill, Gov. Bradley permitted it to become a law without his signature. It makes it a punishable offense for any person having control of children between the ages of 7 and 14 to fail to send them to school at least eight consecutive weeks in a year. The punishment is a forfeiture of the right to use the schools and a fine of $5 to $50. It devolves upon the school trustees to see that the law is enforced, but it will likely be a dead letter for many reasons. Such a law is in line with the republican design of paternal government and it is strange that the democratic Senate should have accepted so readily such an undemocratic measure.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

—McCracken county republicans join the McKinley list and endorse him for president.

—Charles S. Powell was elected chairman of the Madison county democratic committee.

—Pendleton county republicans adopted resolutions of censure of Poor for not voting for Hunter.

—The Massachusetts republican convention at Boston, declared in favor of Reed for president.

—Senator Teller and the other silver republicans continue to insist that the St. Louis platform must declare for the free and unlimited coinage of silver as well as gold.

—Acting Gov. Worthington has called three special elections to fill vacancies caused by the resignations of Senators Walton, James and Landes. All will occur April 21.

—The Liberty Tribune says that there is a very strong sentiment in its county for McKinley, but nearly all the republicans interviewed were for instructing for Bradley first.

—The Texas republican convention broke up in a big row, several fights resulting and the police had to take a hand. Two sets of delegates were named, one for the Reed-Allison faction and the other for McKinley.

—A pensioner in Madison county has discovered that if it was not for the money given out in pensions there would be no cash in circulation. Has even a pensioner the sublime nerve to think that by drawing his pension he is saving the country a second time?—Times.

—It is stated on good authority that Hon. Charles Blanford, the republican speaker of the Lower House of the Kentucky General Assembly, said recently that he had two pistols in his desk and that while the ballot was being taken for Senator on the Saturday before adjournment he had his hands on them ready to wing his man if there had been trouble.

—The Louisville Star says that the secret of Charles Bronston's support of Blackburn was a deal by which the Senator is to support him for governor on this ticket.

Lieut. Gov. Jack Chinn, of Mercer; attorney general, William Goebel, of Kenton; auditor, Ollie James, of Daviess; treasurer, D. E. O'Sullivan, of Jefferson; secretary of State, John P. Salyer, of Magoffin; superintendent of public institution, J. B. Hiles, of Bracken.

—The Hon. John Sam Owsley in declaring his position on the currency question states without hesitation or equivocation that he is for sound money. He takes the precaution to define what he means by the term "sound money" so that no opportunity is given for a misconception of his views, or for any other conclusion that he is in full sympathy with the present financial policy of the government and favors no change in the standard of our currency. Mr. Owsley's frank avowal will strengthen his candidacy for the Congressional nomination. —Advocate.

It is now stated at $75,000 and charges of robbing widows and other trust funds are made. It is hoped that both will atone in some degree for their rascality by long terms in prison.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—The Rev. Stephen Yerkes, D. D., of the Theological Seminary, died suddenly Saturday, aged 79. He was one of the best known men in the Presbyterian church having for years stood high in its councils. He was the father of Hon. J. W. Yerkes, of Danville; Prof. William Yerkes, of Paris, and Mrs. John W. Van Meter, of Boyle. His wife, who survives him, was the widow of the Hon. Wm. S. Anderson.

—Mr. T. C. White, of the East End, died at 10 o'clock yesterday from an injury received in a very peculiar way. He went into his stable before light a few mornings ago and stepped on a cow lying down. She jumped up, throwing him on his breast and injuring him so seriously that death soon ensued. He was one of the most hard working men in the county and was much thought of by his neighbors. He raised a large family of worthy children, including J. I. White, of Rockcastle, and W. Perry White, of this county. Deceased was a large manufacturer of Crab Orchard salts and the proprietor of a noted hog cholera remedy. He was about 48 years of age.

—Mr. Edward Bias Beazley died about 2 o'clock yesterday, after a protracted illness, which involved his heart, liver and kidneys, aged 58. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Withers, by whom one child, Mrs. B. W. Gaines, Jr., still lives, and his second being Miss Hudson, who with three children, Misses Mary and Catherine and Master Morgan, survive. Mr. Beazley was one of the best of men. A conscientious Christian, a clever neighbor and a good citizen, he combined all the virtues of a true man. He had been a member of the Christian church for years and stood high in its management. The funeral will occur to-morrow, Sat., at his home, after which the remains will be taken to Lancaster for interment.

—Tinsley Mershon, who had been sick for nearly two years with consumption of the bowels and a hip trouble, breathed his last at 8:30 yesterday morning. He was conscious up to his death and having made peace with his Maker, he had frequently expressed his willingness to meet Him in the great beyond. Mr. Mershon was 27 years old and was an unusually clever and good hearted young man. Until the dread disease began to gnaw at his vitals he worked hard to help support his widowed mother, Mrs. Gran C. Mershon, and sisters, who are now howled down with grief over their loss. At 10 o'clock this morning the remains will be taken to Buffalo cemetery where after short services at the grave by Rev. W. S. Grinstead, they will be laid to rest.

Although a very busy man, Dr. D. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has found time in which to write a great book, over 1,000 pages, entitled, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser in Plain English, or Medicine Simplified." Few books printed in the English language have reached so great a sale as has this popular work, over 600,000 having been sold at $1.00 each. The profits of this enormous sale having repaid the author for the great amount of labor and money expended on its production he has now decided to give away, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this valuable book, the copy only being required to mail to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., of which company he is president, 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent postpaid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains 1,000 large pages, and over 600 illustrations, some of them in color. The free edition is precisely the same as that sold at $1.00 except only that the books are bound in strong manila paper covers, instead of cloth. It is not often that our readers have an opportunity to obtain a valuable book on such generous terms, and we predict that few will miss availing themselves of the unusual and liberal offer to which we have called their attention.

MR. GEORGE D. WARREN is back from a Virginia, where he had a fair trade. He says the country generally in our native State looks pretty tough to him, whereupon we felt to kill him, but mercifully spared him for the sake of his wife and children.
MR. J. S. OWSELEY, JR., after a most satisfactory visit to Anderson and Mercer, where he was greatly complimented on his hold stand for sound money, left on his homeward journey for Taylorville and will spend a few days with the sturdy yeomanry of Spencer.

MESSRS. W. B. McBRIDE and C. S. STEVENS were up from Danville, Friday, advertising the coming of Max O'Rell to that city on the 31 and Fred Emerson Brooks on the 31st. There will be literary treats worth driving miles to be heard and our people should avail themselves of them.

MR. AND MRS. JESSE M. ALVERSON, who were married in December, are just taking their bridal tour, that is they have gone to visit Mr. Alverson's mother, Mrs. Mattie Alverson, at Richmond. Mr. Alverson is such an industrious man that he had not missed a day from the office in five months until Saturday.
Miss JENNIE WARREN, after a lengthy visit, which was also a most delightful one, to her aunt, Mrs. W. O. Bradley, at the executive mansion, Frankfort, returned home Friday looking prettier than ever. At the governor's reception not long since her name somehow got mixed with Mrs. Warren. "You are a widow, I suppose," said a self important newspaper reporter on being presented to her. "Yes, a grama widow," she replied with the utmost nonchalance, and the poor little man came near losing his breath at such candor.

GONE HOME.—The Bank of Harrison, O., telegraphed $250 to the Farmers Bank & Trust Co. Saturday to put up for Wm. Chesterfield's appearance at the circuit court, and he was at once released. He was in jail for forgery in connection with the operations of the McKinney Canning Co.

LITTLE JIM HATCHER is agent for the Cincinnati Post and he is a hunter. When he was five years old, and that hasn't been long ago, he could tell the capital of every State in the Union and the principal city in every country of the world, besides giving other wonderful evidences of good memory.

LIGHTNING, thunder, rain and hail came at intervals, beginning Saturday night and lasting till yesterday. If there is any kind of weather that March hasn't given us, she has one more day left to show that she is equal to it all. "Showers, cooler tonight, Tuesday fair," telegraphs the weather man from Washington.

A MONTH SOONER.—Supt. John E. Ray, of the Kentucky Asylum of Deaf Mutes at Danville, has issued a circular in which he says that because of the condition of the finances of the State and the consequent embarrassment to this school, it becomes necessary to close the present session a month earlier than usual, and children will be sent home the first week in May.

THE entertainment to be given to-night, 31st, by the talented Miss Elvira Sydnor Miller, of the Louisville Times, Mrs. Doret Bertiel, a beautiful and brilliant vocalist, and Maj. Henry T. Stanton, a poet of renown and a reader of great ability, promises to be one of genuine enjoyment. Secure reserved seat at W. B. McRoberts' store without extra charge.

NARROWLY AVOIDED.—Mr. J. W. Perrin tells us that there came near being a serious side collision at Junction City Sunday, notwithstanding the precautions adopted. An L. & N. freight train had the right of way, but for some unexplained cause a double header on the C. S. came in a few feet of running into it, the catastrophe being only prevented by the two engineers calling loudly for brakes and reversing their engines.

THE rain and hail storm of Sunday was of unusual severity in many parts of the county, though there was but little hail here. Col. Hill, who was out in the knobs, says that the stones were so large there that they would have killed his horse had he not taken the precaution to have him stabled. Al Burns says they were as big as his fist and covered the streets at Hustonville, while Wallace Walter tells that at Kingsville they broke out windows and did much other damage. The rain caused a good deal of rock and earth to fall on the track at the mouth of the tunnel and delay trains for a while.

THE entertainment at the Crab Orchard Baptist church Saturday night drew a large crowd, which was delighted with the way the home talent acquitted itself. The proceeds amounted to about $30.

SKELTON.—Report comes that some boys rolling rocks down a hill back of G. D. McCarty's, at Mt. Salem, found a skeleton of what seems to have been a young man. A newspaper found with it bears date of four years ago.

ED MILLER, the obstreperous young son-in-law of James Crutchfield, was held in bond of $100 to keep the peace toward the old man for 12 months, and for a time it seemed that the chances were 10 to 1 on his going to jail, but friends came to his rescue and succeeded in making the bond.

MILLER.—Miss Elvira Sydnor Miller, the brilliant Tatler of the Times, will give one of her delightful readings at the opera house in Stanford, Ky., Tuesday night, 31st. While she is in Stanford she will be the guest of W. P. Walton, editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL. Wherever Miss Miller's readings have been heard they have proved exceedingly popular.—Louisville Truth.

COMMENCEMENT exercises of Stanford Female College, Dr. Wm. Shelton tells us, will occur June 1 and 2. The concert will be at night and final exercises on the morning of the 2d, both being given at Walton's Opera House. The doctor is trying to get citizens to offer prizes for the best essays, the best declamation, the best deportment, &c., and reports progress. We are glad to be able to state that the present faculty has been engaged for next session.

HOW WE CAN WIN.—Executive Committee Wallace E. Varon says he is for calling the State convention to name delegates for the Chicago convention for about the 10th or 15th of May, with county convention two weeks earlier. He feels absolutely sure that this district will send a sound money delegation and is almost as sure that the State will do likewise. The judge is for a straight out gold standard and says that with a platform declaring for it and with either John G. Carlisle or Mr. Whitney at the head of the ticket, the Democrats will certainly win, especially if McKinley is nominated by the republicans or the miserable Ohio straddle of the currency question.

FIXED.—Some days ago Rice Reynolds swore out an order of delivery for a horse that his father, Milton Reynolds, as he alleged, was unlawfully holding from him. The paper was placed in Constable T. W. Bailey's hands to serve, but he gracefully retired when the old man told him that all the devils in hell couldn't take that horse away. The next time he went the constable took along Tom Nunnelly to scare the old man, but he didn't scare worth a cent. On the contrary, he marched against them with a gun and knife and again discretion was thought the better part of valor. Then the two swore out a warrant against Mr. Reynolds and at his trial yesterday he was mulcted to the tune of $50. Hon. R. C. Warren represented him and promptly took an appeal.

ROCKCASTLE county had a veritable cloudburst Sunday morning accompanied by the severest hail storm in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. Water covered the lowlands while the hills were white with hailstones nearly as large as guinea eggs. The railroad track was covered with water in many places, and a portion of the foundation of a cattle guard near Maretsburg was washed away. This was discovered by Miss Mollie Houk, near whose house the cattle guard is, and she probably saved passenger train No. 24 from a wreck by flagging it. The train passed over very slowly and no damage was done but had it been going at its usual speed it would more than likely have been ditched. It was reported at Brodhead that a couple of calves had been killed by the hail, but for the truthfulness of this we can not vouch.

THE quality of goods sold from Penny's Jewelry Store has always been known to be the very best. You run no risk in buying for there is no other kind. Don't miss the auction sale on April 13. Sale will be continued till all goods are sold.

LIGHTNING struck the wire running from the incandescent dynamo Saturday night and burning out eight coils, threw the houses in town into Clumberian darkness for 48 hours and made housekeepers hot in hunting for lamps. As we never miss the water till the well runs dry, so do we never appreciate the electric lights till the lightning shoots them out.

MAV PELL THROUGH.—Dr. J. B. Kinnaird, who returned from Barboursville yesterday, says his nephew, Dr. Robert K. Burnside, who was severely cut by a fellow named Sawyers, is feeling easy and may pull through. He is cut in five places, the most serious being in the abdomen. He was joking with the fellow, when he made the assault.

GOOD IF TRUE.—Mrs. Eliza Baughman received a letter a few days ago from a New York banker stating that she was an heir to the Oulie estate worth $52,000,000. Mrs. Baughman was an Oulie and has several children who will get some of the "divy" should it prove true that she is an heir. Mrs. Baughman is the widow of the late Hamilton Baughman.

DON'T MISS IT.—If you want to enjoy a feast of good things, literary and musical, don't fail to go to Walton's Opera House to night. In addition to her comprehensive program, Miss Miller will read an article written especially for the occasion, "Kentucky Down to Date," while the music Mrs. Berthel will make will be sweetest melody. Admission 50 cents. Seats reserved at McRoberts' drug store without extra charge.

THE discharge of Mrs. J. A. Hammond by Commissioner W. C. Cud at Somerset both surprised and gratified her friends. It was thought that after she had confessed to opening the letters she was necessarily bound to suffer the penalty, but the commissioner held that as there was no other evidence against her except that confession, she could not be held. She said that she opened the letters through curiosity, while believing that they were to and from enemies of her husband, who were she thought laying a scheme to injure him.

BRODHEAD.—Mr. J. C. McClary, who was called to Brodhead Sunday to prepare the body of Mrs. N. M. Shumate for burial, tells us that that lady died early Sunday morning of catarrh of the stomach. She had been an sufferer for years and death must have been a welcome to her. Mrs. Shumate was a daughter of Mr. Cy Adams and was an excellent christian lady. Her remains were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the family burying ground.—W. J. Flinn and Miss Jennie Roberts, a Brodhead belle of 15 summers, eloped to Jellico yesterday and were married.—A. E. Albright is rejoicing over the arrival of a new girl.

FOR a long time Mr. A. C. Sims was secretary of every secret order in town, the pay therefore being sufficient to cover the premiums on the $15,000 he carries on his life. During 27 years he has devoted nearly every night in the week to some order and Mrs. Sims has quietly borne it in uncomplaining meekness. But patience has at last ceased to be a virtue and she has asserted herself. The result is that Mr. Sims has resigned all the secretarieships and when you call at his home at night now you can see him sitting up with the old woman, looking as happy as a big sunflower and wondering why he had not given up the lodge business long ago.

LOCAL OPTION.—In view of the fact that Harrodsburg may soon vote on local option, Editor Spotewood, of the Democrat, is publishing letters from cashiers of banks in towns where saloons are prohibited, in order to show what are the results of such a law. R. M. Jackson, of the First National at London, says: "I know local option is a success here and to-day there could not be found 10 persons who would sign a petition to vote saloons back. I am not a prohibitionist by any means, but I know our town has been benefited and a drunken man is as much a curiosity on our streets as a circus show." Cashier J. A. Quisenberry, of the Citizens National of Danville, says: "This community, after years of trial of the question, is satisfied with the result and would not for any consideration surrender what has been obtained for the elevation of the morals and welfare of the community." W. H. Kinnaird, of the National Bank, Lancaster, asserts that local option is a success there. "It has prevailed for 10 years. I have lived in this place more than 50 years and in my judgment the last 10 have been the best." Stanford people can also add their testimony to the same effect. A drunken man or a street broil is a rare sight here and nobody but those especially interested in running them or in patronizing them would have the saloons back.

CURE FOR HEADACHE.—As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headache yields to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Large bottles only 50 cents at W. B.
